World's Week

BY HAROLD L. WEIR
Associate Editor and Daily Columnist of The Edmonton Bulletin

The events of the past year have tended to paint the picture of Hitler's war machine as a vast irresistible juggernaut that has swept over Europe flattening everything in its path.

Whether we are conscious of it or not, we have all more or less acquired the defeatist idea that this gargantuan instrument of destruction could not be stopped.

Harold L. Weir

The tremendous moral value of the Russians, then, is obvious. Whether Hitler ultimately crushes opposition in that country or not, Russian successes up to the present point show clearly that Hitler's armies are confronted by armies of equal numerical strength and even of inferior mechanical equipment, they can be defeated — just as they are being defeated, in some sectors in Russia.

The Red army does not need to attain complete victory to crush the myth of Nazi invincibility. That myth has already been crushed. And our outlook has become more wholesome for that reason.

It is beginning to be apparent, too, that Hitler's sweeping victories in other sections of Europe are not so profitable as at first appeared.

In occupying half the continent, Hitler has seized a great deal of territory. But he has also acquired several of the finest headaches any would-be conqueror of the world has ever suffered.

Everywhere he has met sabotage, hatred and rebellion. And as time goes on, the situation grows more hazardous for him in every country he has occupied.

In the newly created kingdom of Croatia, conditions are so bad that the Axis nominated king, the Duke of Spoleto, has not yet dared to set foot in his new domain. A state of terrorism exists. There are a dozen murders every night. The peasants are openly scornful of their German-Italian dominated government.

Even the most optimistic pro-Nazis are quite clear that the situation cannot continue. Something will have to change soon.

Similar conditions prevail in Greece, where the Greek people are offering every possible opposition to the Nazi occupants.

Executions are daily occurrences. And the general confusion is heightened by the fact that a number of British and Australian soldiers are still fugitives in the Grecian hills.

At frequent intervals, these bands together and raid the smaller German garrisons, killing large numbers of Nazi soldiers.

All this, of course, keeps the country in a constant ferment and adds to the difficulties confronting Adolf Hitler.

The Class was judged by W. J. Edgar, of Innisfail, who remarked that it was a very good class and the boys and girls deserved commendation for so creditable a show.

The placings were: — Richard Havens, Roy Hehr, Loris Walsh, Freda Hehr, Douglas Havens, Clarence Riddell, Alex Simpson, Walter Landymore, Florence Landymore, Keith Cochran, Jackie Fairbairn, Anita Williamson, Nelson Williamson, Jean Liddell and Malcolm Leask.

He gave a unique matinee to Sydney Mines boys and girls, admitting them upon the donation of an aluminum pot or pan. Over 1,500 pieces were received. They were sold through a dealer of second-hand materials for reuse in Canada's war industry. The money was donated to the Spitfire Fund. Alterations being made to the front of the Strand Theatre afforded an excellent opportunity to display the children's contribution to Canada's War Effort.

The Yorkton Enterprise reports there was weeping and wailing at the C. N. R. depot, Canora, one morning recently, when a number of young Doughbors entrained for Prince Albert National Park to do road work in lieu of military training. One would have thought by the tears in evidence and general gloom prevailing that these stalwarts were leaving for scenes of danger and suffering instead of being permitted to spend a few months among beautiful surroundings and being paid 50c a day in addition to their keep. Funny, isn't it, our government had to make a hard and fast agreement to get these colonists, and thereafter they have been a pain in the neck, keeping our Mounties chasing nude parades investigating school house fires and now letting them shirk national responsibilities.

Leadership Through Example

While there are some in Canada who would have preferred some system of rationing gasoline and oil rather than the voluntary plan which has been launched, most Canadians will agree that the Oil Controller's move sets a splendid objective for a democratic people.

If motor car drivers of this country cut down the consumption of motor fuel by 50% of their own free will, the achievement will stand out as a triumph for our way of living.

Human nature will be a prime factor in the success of the country's undertaking however. Many of us are prone to sit back and wait for the other man to take the initiative. We require leadership within the ranks, somebody to set the example, before we all commence to do the same thing together.

In this campaign to conserve gasoline and oil for the sake of the bombers overseas, an opportunity is presented to the humblest of our citizens to become a leader. If a man leaves his motor car in his garage for four days a week and proudly announces the fact to his friends in the community, he will be rendering a service to his country of no mean value.

Thanksgiving Day Monday, October 13

Canada this year will observe Thanksgiving Day on October 13, the second Monday in October.

This announcement was made recently by Hon. P. F. Casgrain, secretary of state, who said a proclamation naming October 13 as a day of "general thanksgiving" will be issued shortly.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

During the next few weeks the "Crop Testing Plan" will be holding a number of field days through out the West at about 50 District Plots, and at some 400 odd Demonstration Plots. Matters of considerable interest to farmers and others will be demonstrated and discussed.

This year the meetings will appeal particularly to farm wives for the new bread made from special wheat flour, and which contains all the natural B Vitamin, contained in the wheat kernel, as distinct from bread merely fortified with B-1 Vitamin Thiamin, will be shown and farm wives will be invited to taste the new bread and give an opinion on it.

A high medical authority recently stated that this new bread will be found to be one of the greatest discoveries ever made in the advancement of the health of the people, particularly of children. Students of the wheat industry say that it is likely to be one of the greatest discoveries ever made for increasing the use of bread, hence of wheat, hence of helping to get rid of our large wheat surplus, which now hangs over the market and so depresses price.

Farmers and their wives should therefore, I suggest, make every effort to attend one of these interesting "Crop Testing Plan" meetings.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Western Canadian crop deteriorating from high temperatures and lack of rain. Torrential rains in Turkey. The Balkans, and the southern Ukraine with heavy troop movements poor roads and inadequate rail transportation, are causing serious harvest delay. Argentina-Brazil Reciprocal Trade Agreement shows relaxation of Brazil's effort to restrict imports of wheat and flour.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Officials estimate U. S. Spring wheat prospects as 81 million bushels over 10 year average. Officials estimate remaining Argentine wheat surplus at 80 million bushels more than last year with present prospects good. Weather conditions favor harvesting of U. S. Winter wheat in central sections.

More than 120,000 people saw the government exhibit of Alberta trade-marked goods which was a feature of Calgary Stampede and Edmonton Exhibition, it was stated by Marketing Board officials this week. Success of the exhibit at this year's premier summer gatherings will result in its continuation next year at available points. Housed in a large Alberta made marquee, products of 87 Alberta manufacturers made a variety display that brought amazement to many visitors. Some manufacturers already report having received orders as a direct result of the exhibit, and officials in charge declare a great number of people wrote down lists of the exhibits to guide their future buying.

Beauty for YOU

The Secrets of Good Looks

by Barbara Lynn.

Have You Radiant Hair?

Lovely, shimmering hair is a signpost of youthfulness, yet so many are content with dull and faded hair, often speckled with dandruff. With very little trouble, hair can be made most attractive.

Brushing is the first step. Use a brush with really strong bristles, and get at the roots and scalp.

Dull, faded hair needs toning up with a good hair tonic. Sprinkle some tonic over scalp and hair, loosen hair from scalp, then, placing fingers firmly on the scalp, rotate the scalp itself, without rubbing. Finally, brush vigorously.

If you've very greasy hair, don't forget that a permanent wave tends to dry up surplus oil.

Dry hair needs occasional massage with warm oliveoil. For very brittle hair, try an egg shampoo occasionally. Take two eggs, beat white and yolks separately, then fold together. Wet hair and scalp with lukewarm water. Cover head with sufficient mixture to work into hair and scalp, then rinse thoroughly with clear tepid water. Repeat process several times.

Of course, whatever the condition of your hair, it should have a shampoo frequently. There is a new shampoo that suits any type or color of hair, is simple to use and makes the hair lovely and refreshingly clean and glossy.

Send for interesting booklet on Beauty Care, and ask about your personal beauty problems too, enclosing 4 one-cent stamps to defray postage. Address: Miss Barbara Lynn, Box 75, Station B, Montreal, Que.

Home Killing And Curing Of Hogs

To obtain best results in scalding hogs killed at home the temperature of the water should be at or a little above 150 degrees F. A little lye added to the water improves the result of the scald.

These and other detailed instructions are contained in a well illustrated bulletin recently issued by the Department of Agriculture. The bulletin discusses the killing of hogs at home, from the selection of the hog to the curing of the pork. The bulletin is available without charge from the Agricultural Extension Service.

SEEDTIME
HARVEST

Dr. K. V. Neathy
Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Line Elevators Association

Using Soil Scientists

Some time ago, in this column, I suggested that the necessity of reducing wheat production provided an opportunity to encourage the adoption of soil conserving practices. This opportunity was missed largely because we allowed the bulk of our grass and clover seed to be exported.

What about 1942? Perhaps we may be able to forget all about acreage reduction; but, if not, surely an effort should be made to see that the reduction is made in the interests of better farming. In northern wooded areas, yield and quality of wheat can be increased by the use of legumes plus artificial fertilizers. Grass could be used in the rotation with advantage to the wheat grower in many parts of the plains.

These problems differ greatly from one soil zone to another. In outlining an agricultural policy for 1942, all available technical information should be used. These ideas were embodied in a resolution introduced to the regional meeting of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists at Brandon, by the Agricultural Director of the North-West Line Elevators Association, and seconded by the President of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. It is certain that soil scientists, agronomists (a polite name for field husbandmen) and economists could offer much helpful advice, and so, also could many farmers. The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of such persons with special training, and this can surely be endorsed by all.

Farmers who have not previously sown grass or clover seed should consult the nearest experimental farm or district agriculturist.

We can grow more wheat and better wheat on fewer acres, if we follow the example of our best farmers.
